

Accelerate Wealth from the Inside Out

Day 4 : Energy Flow

'You can improve the flow of energy in your home and strengthen inner abundance at the same time. This can help shape your destiny, enliven your relationships and reap both tangible and intangible result'

David Daniel Kennedy, Feng Shui For Abundance

Congratulations on thinking big and opening to your biggest, best self!

Does the space you live in reflect your abundant vision of yourself?

The abundant energy flow improves rapidly when the living space is simply organized and cleaned. Placing treasured furnishings and knick knacks properly away or in a position of empowerment greatly improves your manifesting power. Removing items from the floor and organizing drawers and closets are all steps towards proper Feng Shui in your home and your castle.

Two years ago, while attending a women's networking meeting in San Francisco, I had the delight of hearing Kathleen Horvath speak. She is a local, well-respected Feng Shui practitioner that speaks on Feng Shui and the role that proper placement plays in supporting aspects of an abundant life. Two helpful pieces of homework she gave us were:

- 1.) Wash the front door
- 2.) Clean the front entry

These action allows new and joyful things to come to you freely

_____ done

After cleaning the front door and entry, make a list of 10 items you intend to 'bring in'. Hold the list to your heart and feel them come into being. Place the list in an envelope and put it under the area where you sleep. Mark a reminder in your calendar to open the envelope in 12 months and see what you have manifested.

I personally love the system of Feng Shui. An easy guide, if you would like to pursue this, is "Feng Shui for Abundance". You can find it in my website bookstore at www.Julierenee.com. I followed the step-by-step guidance given in the book and progressed into organizing my entire house for my greatest abundance. It's fabulous to feel in sync with your environment.

Five Key Shifts

To produce amazing results with energy flow, I made alterations to my home and brought in the energetic space of wealth.

- Front entry area improvements.

I had a bird bath with still water close to the entry of my home. It turns out stagnant water at the front door prevents a fresh flow of abundance from coming in the front door. I went over to OSH and purchased a wonderful 18" fountain which I placed within a couple feet of the front door. The fountain remains running, to this day, with fresh flowing water. It truly keeps fresh vibrant energy flowing into my home!

- My financial abundance corner was up in smoke- I discovered that the corner fireplace which had been such a wonderful feature was actually burning off my wealth. I cleaned it up, removed all the ash, placed some healthy looking logs artistically in the center and closed the protective screens. I completed the cure by positioning three round crystal balls in front of the opening.
- I removed the corner facing desk in my office. To have a corner desk is apparently the kiss of death in Feng Shui. You are facing the corner of the room, which is a dead end and means you have no future in business. I sold the desk to a bartender and purchased an inexpensive replacement at Scandinavian Design. The room served a dual purpose. I needed to have a moveable compact desk with full coverage down the front of the legs which was important to avoid attacks and betrayals in business. With the desk now facing towards the door and away from the wall, I am now in the dominant or king's position.

- I moved my new bed into the proper safe and resting position facing the door.
- I began fervently closing the doors to bathrooms, keeping the shower door and toilet seat covers closed so I was no longer susceptible to my wealth running down the drains.

My house felt profoundly different. It was lighter and the energy was properly flowing! The transformation was absolutely remarkable. I will definitely practice Feng Shui in any future home I live in. I am completely convinced it is a powerful tool for health, vitality and abundance!
