The function of Perception
Consciousness State of awake and alert  Unique to the main spirit occupying the human body  Can have consciousness of another overlaid on a weak or controllable individual temporarily	Sensory awareness (7 senses) Touch, taste, smell, hear, see, chemical awareness, mirroring  It directs awareness of surroundings, environmental and to the presence of another, what is in physical space  Provides details for research and development of understanding of one's world/life It works through genesis understandings are formed through master and stem cells	Stimulation Response Impact, contract and act. Perception is action and reaction with movement, gaining understanding through reaction and action  A more complex version of what the reptilian brain does. You learn from action, reaction and withdrawal for evaluation. It works by using specific mechanisms of the Mitochondria part of the wiring of genesis and the reptilian brain
Telekinesis Being able to produce motion in objects without contact or other physical means (note this is an aspect of perception but does not interact with perception)  With conviction or knowing an individual is able to move objects without having contact Done with the mastery of a specific kind of thought shifting particulars rapidly in the field and directing a new location neurotransmitters mitochondria direction	Radar system for detecting the presence and speed of other objects, by emitting pulses that bounce off the object back to the person  Provides detail about movement and awareness of things beyond our self using amplification and mitochondria yes uses color and light, light is the pulse it is provided by the light of cell from stem cells set to sense and warn with darkness, stimulates belly response of danger	Resonance a quality that makes something personally meaningful or important to someone  Perception is all about awareness and learning, as you learn you assign meaning and importance, value to certain things that will define your character and how you direct your life Uses neurotransmitters, emotions, and the senses, uses the process of thoughts to form opinions and personal meaning
Engagement ~ Conversation To engage in a connection mind to mind heart to heart sending thoughts and ideas from your center of head to another for interaction and relationship  Connection to other humans, love relationship health and all aspects of full self expression can be realized as one masters both communication and interaction with others Using a mechanism in the middle left neo cortex for sending and receiving signals known as broad and narrow band telepathy also the mirroring quality of stem cells, neurotransmitters body chemistry hormones	Passion a strong feeling of enthusiasm or excitement for something or about doing something  Creates action, stimulates feeling raises energy excitement Using neurotransmitters hormones thoughts mirroring light of cell mitochondria	Muscles
