

Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, we glorify you and we praise your holy name. We bless you. We worship you. We love you. We celebrate you. We thank you. We thank you for hearing all of our prayers. You alone are so righteous and so glorious and magnificent and the creator of all that is. And we thank you. We thank you for being in your presence. We thank you for this opportunity to continue to strengthen our soul and to do the work set in front of us to do.

Help us, God, help us to embrace the vitality, the high importance and value of our soul, the preciousness of our soul. Help us to integrate that preciousness and high importance, high value so that we never let go of it again.

We thank you, God, for all the miracles. We thank you for friendships. We thank you for clarity on how to proceed. We thank you for those reaching out saying, "I want to help." We thank you for the courage that you give us, the strength that you give us to carry on.

Again, we glorify you. We praise you. We sing unendingly to you.

Holy, holy, holy Lord God, most high heaven and earth are full of your glory. L'zana in the highest.

We just imagine ourselves now falling on the floor heads to bowing in honor of you with the holies, with their golden crowns and scepters and they are worshipping you and we are worshipping you as well.

Thank you, God. Thank you for this moment in time. This time to be with you. To be in your presence. To be here on earth and yet with the gift that you give us of our soul and spirit experiencing heaven and experiencing being with you as well. You're so blessed. We thank you for making us the second angels. We thank you for the blessing of the angel friends. We thank you for the way that you walk with us so faithfully every moment.

And God, we remember those times of miracles. We call forth memories for me, memories of walking with your son, Jesus, holding my hand as a three-year-old in golden valley, valley of peace, Lutheran church telling me, "It will be a hard life and we'll be with you every step of the way."

In age nine when my body was wondering if it was time to go and you giving me the courage and the certainty to carry on.

And age 16 badly beaten, giving me yet again the courage to keep going, your son walking with me and showing me that I could continue.

And at age 24, the first time I died, and you showed me my life that I had the opportunity to see what I had accomplished so far in my life, what had transpired. And then me realizing that there was so much more that I could do if I could stay and you allowing me to come back into my body after my body had actually died. And I thank you for that at age 24.

And again, at the time age 46 hit by a car, an angel surrounding me and apparently dead. The EMT is saying, "No blood pressure, no heartbeat." And yet there I was awake with my eyes open speaking to them and angels all around me "Staying close to stay close to your body, honey, we're going to help you get through this. It's not your time." And me having another opportunity to come back from a physical death.

And then eight months later in bed, still not able to walk, having being off and on in a wheelchair and a walker from the car accident. And there again, having rigors and actually being so close to death and just sending the angel of death and me sending the angel of death away and giving me the opportunity to come back once more.

And then we see those miracles even in this past year where people in our community have given up of their time and their pumping power. They've fasted and prayed and helped us to be successful to win a case that seemed like it was going to run me over like a freight train. And I thank you for that. And I thank you for winning that court case. And I thank you for putting this opportunity for this evil lawyer to meet with a consequence from even just her name being brought before the Texas Supreme Court. And I take that as a victory in itself.

And God, I'm remembering those moments when I felt like I couldn't live and you strengthened me, those moments where asthma and pneumonia had overtaken me on three different occasions and that breath was almost impossible. And yet you were there to calm my body and to restore that God fire and breath in the lungs. And I thank you for that.

And I thank you for that moment when Henry came into my life and how certain he was that he was my son and was extremely upset that I was going to go home without him and then being able to bring him home.

And that journey that you took us on where he went through drug withdrawals and you stayed with us every second, you stayed with us and helped us through those drug withdrawals. And I glorify you and I praise your holy name.

And then that no one died, that there was a violent child in the house that was bent on killing one of us and that somehow we were protected and that no one died. And that she hopefully is safe. We pray that she is safe and that Henry and I are safe and living a good life.

And we ask for that opening again for a deep peace and deep joy to return maybe after never having had it in the last 10 years. But just asking now for that experience of peace and that experience of being joyful.

We thank you for the bubble of joy that Henry is.

And now, God, we ask for each person here a true and pure heart. I can vouch for all of them, God. They are all here earnestly seeking to walk in your ways, walk in your will and to align more and more deeply to restore what has been lost to us.

God, I pray for each soul here that each soul is restored 100% spirit, soul, heart and mind, body in every way that you can restore these beautiful, true, pure hearts that we just offer ourselves in service to you.

And in that, we ask that you, as we are your children, that you look upon us with your loving mercy, your countenance, and you grant us a kind of peace, a kind of healing, a kind of power and restoration that is unknown at this point to any human.

And we thank you for that. We thank you for the supernatural powers that you alone have, God, because you are creator. You are healer. You are the grand commander of the angelic army. You are all powerful.

And with you, nothing is impossible. With you, God, all things are possible. And we know that and we claim that and we thank you for that.

We ask that you for the projects that we have in front of us for me to go up against and our community, the CPS type organizations and take evil down and the criminal organizations of the child trafficking and senior citizen abuse organizations.

We ask that you fuel our strength, our emotions on our ability. Give us the right tools, the right people, put the right people in our path for every thing that we are taking on, on behalf of goodness, on behalf of you, God, and we glorify you, we glorify you to you be the glory to you be the praise.

You are so faithful to us and we are so thankful and grateful. And we just praise you.

Alleluia, Alleluia, God, Alleluia.

Thank you, God. Thank you, God. Amen and amen.
